CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I: NAME

The name of this organization shall be THE UTAH STATE POETRY SOCIETY, INC.

ARTICLE II: OBJECTIVES

The objectives of this organization shall be:

Section 1. At all times it shall be remembered that this Society is a non-profit literary, educational and cultural organization with the primary objective to secure a wider public appreciation of the poetry arts and to promote excellence in the writing of poetry.

- a. Being incorporated by the State as a strictly nonprofit organization receiving both State and Federal money, no individual member may use the name of the Society or property belonging to the Society for personal or private gain. ANY INFRACTION OF THIS RULE WOULD HAVE SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES, EVEN TO REVOCATION OF THE SOCIETY'S CHARTER, LICENSES AND STATE PRIVILEGES. Members of the Society, including Executive Officers, donate their time and services, and receive no salaries per se. State and Federal money received through the Utah Arts Council must be used only for business expenses incurred in maintaining the organization. An accurate, detailed report of all expenditures is made to the Utah Arts Council at the end of each fiscal year. It is permissible, should there be sufficient funds, to allow token honorariums to various deserving members and nonmembers, such as judges, etc., at the discretion of the President and Executive Board.
- b. It is to be remembered at all times that the Utah State Poetry Society, Inc. represents our State in the field of poetry. It has been given status and has the backing of the Governor and the Legislature, and our members have the responsibility to use sound judgment in all matters where poetry is involved, keeping in mind the traditions of the Society and acting with dignity, upholding standards in which our State may take pride. Officers should be particularly careful, because they represent not only themselves but the Society as a whole.

Section 2. Membership shall also be accorded to interested people (those who write, read, or enjoy poetry) from any other state in the union, and to all former Utahns, wherever they may reside.

Section 3. Revocation of membership may be initiated or suggested by any member of the Society, on submission in writing to any member of the Executive Board. Reasons for revocation must be clearly stated and may include:

a. deliberate or unintentional plagiarism; b. unbecoming conduct or conduct not in harmony with the aims and principles of the Society; or c. a request for revocation of membership by a member. No dues or part of dues shall be refunded.

Section 4. Reinstatement of a member who has had his/her membership revoked cannot be made by the President or any single member of the Executive Board. The ex-member can be reinstated only if he/she makes a request for such reinstatement in an application submitted to the Executive Board, stating the reason or reasons for the request for new membership or reinstatement of the old, to be acted upon by the Board. The motion of the Board on such reinstatement must be passed unanimously by the Board.

ARTICLE IV: DUES

Section 1. The amount of the annual dues shall be established by the Executive Board in accordance with current costs of procedures, the program of the Society, and its various projects.

Section 2. The annual dues shall apply to a calendar year - January to December - and shall not be considered as payment for the fiscal year or a part of the year.

Section 3. Dues may be paid at any time during the year except for those members who may wish to enter the State or National contests, and the deadlines for payment of such dues shall be established by the Executive Board and the dates announced in the annual contest announcements.

Section 4. The amount of the dues shall not be changed during the year, but when changes are made, they shall apply to new year beginning in January.

ARTICLE V: OFFICERS AND EXECUTIVE BOARD

Section 1. The governing body of the Utah State Poetry Society shall consist of the following:

- a. A Presiding or Executive President, who has immediately prior to the executive position served for two years (or more, as the case may be) as President-Elect.
- b. A President-Elect to be selected every other year in April to serve as understudy and assistant to the Executive President.
- c. An Advisory President who shall be the immediate past Executive President.
- d. An Executive Board to consist of the above-named officers and all available past presidents of the Society, and such other advisors and assistants as may be appointed by the Executive Board.
- e. An additional Advisory Council to consist of the various chapter presidents of the Society and such other advisors and assistants as may be appointed by the Executive Board.
- f. A Treasurer, to be appointed by the Executive Board.
- g. Secretaries, temporary or continuing, as may be needed, to be appointed by the Executive Board.
- h. Such committees and chairmen as may be needed, to be appointed by the Executive Board.

Section 2. Procedures of the Executive Board: All procedures and plans relating to the State organization and the direction of the chapters are to be presented to the Executive Board for discussion and decision. No officer or member of the Board may initiate a new program or abandon any established activity or program without presenting the matter to the Executive President for discussion and decision by the Board.

Section 3. An officer may resign when and if health or circumstance dictates such action, or he/she may be asked to resign for any serious infraction of the laws of this organization, malfeasance of office, or other such contingency as may require such action, such decisions to be made by the Executive Board.

Section 4. In case of death or resignation or inability of any officer to perform the duties incident to his/her office, the newly vacant office shall be filled by appointment of another officer by the Executive Board, in case such a vacancy occurs between the specified times of appointment of officers.

- a. If, in the judgment of a majority of the Executive Board, an officer or person appointed to an official position should be unable to satisfactorily perform the office or duties to which said person was appointed, due to health, accident, moving from state, or other reasons, including mutual consent, the officer or appointee is given the privilege to submit his/her resignation voluntarily or be requested to resign. All such matters are to be considered confidential and governed by the Executive Board.

- b. In the event of a change having to be made in the Presidency due to death or unforeseen circumstances, the Executive Board shall have the power to appoint a replacement to fulfill the unexpired term of the incapacitated officer without the President-Elect automatically becoming President before his/her expected term. The office of President-Elect is an office designated to be filled for a two-year period of apprenticeship and is not to be confused with that of a vice-president who would automatically become President, should said President be removed from office for any reason. If, at any time during the apprenticeship of the President-Elect, the majority of the Executive Board feels a change should be made, the change should be made and another officer appointed to the position.

Section 5. Time for Appointment and Change of Officers: It will be seen that the President-Elect will be the only officer to be presented at the annual statewide meetings. Section 6. An Executive President may be re-appointed for a term of two extra years, in which case both the current President-Elect and the current Advisory President would continue in their capacities, each for another two years.

Section 7. Nomination and selection of officers shall be held on the odd years only. Prior to the April meeting, the President and the Executive Board shall appoint a committee of three members (a chairman and two other members of the Society) to select a new President-Elect. The name of the selected officer shall be presented to the Board for approval. No nominations may be made from the floor. The chairman of the nominating committee will then read the names of all three presidents, Advisory, Executive, and President-Elect, for presentation to the assemblage at the April Festival.

Section 8. The slate of officers announced at the April meeting shall enter into their respective duties July 1st in order that the responsibility of the fiscal reports and other business shall continue until July 1st under the direction of the Presiding President and those who have assisted the Presiding President to that date.
